

Journal Name: Psychiatry and Psychotherapy.

Title: Polynomial Model of Two Interacting Pacemakers Taking Into Account the Time of Refractoriness.

1. Do the title and abstract cover the main aspects of the work, would it spark interest to the right audience?

Yes

2. In general, is the paper easy to follow and does it have a logical flow? Are there any language issues?

Not

3. Did the authors make all their data (e.g. sequence reads, code, questionnaires used) available for the readers?

Yes - Not

4. Is this paper novel and an advancement of the field, or have other people done very similar work?

Other studies are indicated in the references

5. Is this paper acceptable for publication or not?

YES, ACCEPT, BUT WITH MINOR REVIEW MARKED YELLOW IN TEXT